

Paul : Enters

I : I'm curious if you think this will negatively impact your webhosting business too

I : I mean, theplanet/servermatrix isn't stupid, they're obviously going to shut you down.

Paul : Oh'?

Paul : No mail ever left from the planet?

Paul : What exactly is your problem?

I : That doesn't matter little man.

I : It's still against their AUP

Paul : You get mailed more than once?

I : You send spam, it wastes my resources and costs me money

Paul : May I have your name?

I : It's unacceptable. Why do you do it? Why do you cause so much pain to others?

I : How many emails have you sent out?

I : Why do you think it's a good idea to bother other people with an obviously flawed business model?

I : What were you thinking when you used a trademarked name in your domain?

Paul : I dont think you are in position to ask that.

I : Why not? Why won't you answer my questions?

Paul : Well I guess you have no vision.

Paul : Vision*

Paul : Your opinion, is the same as your right to delete the email and request no further mailings.

Paul : I beleive this was a one time mailing anyhow sir.

I : I'm not interested in "vision" advice from someone who, despite blasting out crap emails, can only get 15 registered members. And, what, 5 auctions you've listed yourself?

Paul : This website is not live sir'

I : No, but seriously, why won't you tell me how many emails you sent out?

Paul : t is less that 60 hours up.

I : If it's not live why are you sending out bulk email to get people to visit it?

Paul : We are offering 20.00 USD

Paul : For you.

Paul : Not trying to sell you a thing.

Paul : Sir'

I : That's not relevant. It's still an unsolicited commercial email.

Paul : Tryong to help you.

Paul : Is all.

I : Want to know something? I get 2,000 of them a day. THAT's not an exaggeration.

I : How is that helping me? How do you expect me to go through 2,000 junk emails daily?

Paul : If you dont like it delete it and request no further.

I : How can you even defend that behavior?

Paul : 2000!?

Paul : OMG!

I : Yep.

Paul : Yes we can help you.

Paul : Who is your ISP for mail?

I : It doesn't matter, you're wasting my time.

Paul : We are sending you 2000 a day you are telling me?

Paul : I see

I : Oh no. I get 2,000 total from all sorts of people just like you. Who just send one at a time and think it doesn't matter.

I : I'm hosted on my own server. With the same company you are, by the way.

Paul : Well we are a good company.

Paul : Why cant we be friends because we emailed you?

I : See I answer your questions. Why can't you answer mine -- just about how many emails are you sending out and when do you plan on stopping?

I : Answer that and maybe I'll understand.

Paul : Well we do not plan to send a huge ammount of 20.00 bonus offers.

Paul : But I do know we do not use Planet servers to email anyone.

Paul : At least we do not.

Paul : tw?

I : Oh and if it matters I did get your emails twice at the same email, so you might want to look into that.

I : Can I ask one more question?

I : Where do you get email addresses from? Did you buy a list or something?

Paul : I appologize. I will remove you now if you tell me the address.

Paul : Yes $ is involved.

Paul : AT least we offer to you an ability to talk to us and communicate.

Paul : So other companies that mail you do this for you?

I : Ahh I see. But now I have one other question -- are you sending the emails yourself or is some other company doing it for you?

Just curious, I know I get a lot of emails from people saying they will send them and others saying just to buy the email names. Which do you do?

Paul : Getting and sending are 2 different

Paul : Are you interested in broadcasting emails?

I : Do you do that?

Paul : Who turned 30?

Paul : Not I.

I : I heard you just recently turned 30, happy belated birthday

Paul : But my father did just turn 70

I : Are you sure? You run marcwebhost right?

I : You list your birthday as Sept 1, 1974

Paul : No sir'

Paul : That company is owned by Greg C.

Paul : <---

I : Congratulations to your father though! May he live a long and fruitful life.

Paul :

Paul : SO you know Greg?

Paul : I can conference you to him.

I : Ahh, well, I got confused because you're both in the same city or something, right?

I : Goodland, FL

I : Sounds good!

I : So when is your birthday?

Paul : So who's this?

Paul : besides: 12.221.232-.client.insightBB.com

I : My name is Joe

I : Well you can call me that if you'd like. But it's not my real name. It'd be awful long and hard to pronounce if it were.

Paul : Joe do yo work for Ebay?

Paul : you*

Paul : Or any law enforcement agency?

I : I will not lie to you, no I do not. I actually just sold something on eBay though! It was my old cell phone, it wouldn't ring anymore.

I : Why would someone buy it? I got $50 for it. You can sell anything there!

Paul : We have a toll free number to call if you ever need your superiors to reach us.

Paul : CAN sell it here for less and get $ back.

I : I don't have superiors. Well, none to speak of right now.

I : Why would I want to sell it for less? I want to sell it for more! That's capitalism for you.

Paul : no no,pay less fees.

Paul : lol

I : Oh that makes more sense

Paul : We also offer a 25% profit share.

I : So what else do you do besides running this noebay place?

Paul : Ende' bay

I : I have to tell the truth I don't like ebay either, but I did sell my cell phone.

I : yes, you're right! Ende' Bay

Paul : We have sales already and the site isnt live yet.

I : That's excellent.

Paul : People will buy anything ifthey see it at the right price.

I : But you have to do something else too, because the site is just starting, do you have like a day job? I work at a fishery.

I : That's why I'm still up. I get up early to work as a fishmonger, I unload fish.

I : I take a lot of showers.

Paul : Internet is our breadbox.

Paul : e live in a fisshing villiage though.

I : Goodville!

Paul : lol

Paul : Goodland'

Paul : Let me ask you....

I : You're right again, Paul. You're on the money. You should get into the fishing industry.

Paul : What do you think 25% of ebays monthly profit look like sitting on a table?

I : There isn't a lot of fish-related spam. That would probably make a lot of money.

I : What did you want to ask me?

Paul : no lol

I : Hmmm, a lot of money!
